

The LIBRARY SHELF

A NEWSLETTER FROM THE LIBRARY FOUNDATION OF MARTIN COUNTY

ANNUAL REPORT ISSUE

FISCAL YEAR OCTOBER 2002 - SEPTEMBER 2003

"I have been honored to lead an outstanding Board of Directors this past year. Each one is committed to furthering the work of The Library Foundation of Martin County"

- Promoting public support of the Library System
- Promoting understanding through cultural experiences
- Promoting literacy through reading for citizens of all ages

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

The generous nature of our community was evident at our beautiful libraries this past year – we opened a new branch library in Jensen Beach and dedicated an expanded facility in Indiantown. We especially want to thank all the donors who contributed to our capital fundraising efforts to provide the “community support” of the public-private partnership that exists between Martin County and the Library Foundation.

We welcomed over 500 children and their parents – some for their first visit to a library – during BookBlast! last November, celebrated during Children’s Library Week. And for the children who cannot come to the library, we took the library and love of reading to over twenty community locations with the Summer Outreach Program to schools and daycare centers.

The premiere program of the Foundation’s annual efforts is BookMania!, a weekend-long celebration of books and authors every January. The John F. Armstrong Room at the Blake Library was standing room only for many of the twenty-one authors who came to visit and share their experiences with us.

The Foundation sponsors the Chatauqua South Fiction Award to honor Florida writers and stories written about Florida. This year’s winner was Susan Carol McCarthy, a first-time author.

I know many of you (over 2,500!) had the opportunity to attend the “Latin Fiesta” in June. The culture, music and dance from ten Central and South American countries came alive in brilliant color on performance stages at all six library branches.

Our fundraising efforts were rewarded with record setting results for the Pearls of Wisdom Ball – over $100,000 raised! Our heartfelt thanks to Arthur Levitt for his presentation based on his book, “Take on the Street.” We even found time to launch a new fundraising project – a golf tournament hosted by Loblolly and Golf Pro Rick Whitfield.

All of these events and accomplishments are possible because of our valued donors and community corporate partners. Thank you for your ongoing interest and support, and I look forward to seeing you at the library soon.

FOUNDERS SOCIETY

The Founders Society is the Library Foundation's prestigious donor honor Society that recognizes cumulative gifts.

Members of the Founders Society share a sense of mission and dedication to assist our Library System. All Founders are Life Members of the Library Foundation. Individuals and corporations that contribute Bank of America Private Bank hosted the Founders Society Appreciation Dinner at the Riverside Theatre in Vero Beach. The Founders Society of the Library Foundation of Martin County honors donors who have committed $10,000 or more to the Foundation. l-r: Lisa Brown, Nancy Gentzlinger, Ted Brown, Bank of America Private Bank, Marge Brutvan, Rita Armstrong and Betty Lahti.

$10,000, either in one single gift or pledged over five years, are eligible for membership. The members of the Founders Society enjoy attending social events and programs featuring authors at the annual BookMania! weekend in January.

ENDOWMENT

The Library Foundation of Martin County manages two permanent endowments created by the Carl and Lily Pforzheimer Foundation in 1997 and 1998 respectively:

The Blake Library Humanities Reference/Research Librarian - $175,000

The Humanities Collection Grant - $85,000

Both endowments received additional gifts this year from Mrs. Carol Pforzheimer through the Carl and Lily Pforzheimer Foundation.:

- The Blake Library Humanities Reference/Research Librarian fund supports a part-time staff position that evaluates and chooses books for the Humanities Collection at the Blake Library. The Humanities Librarian also promotes the use of the Humanities Collection through staff training, developing programs, creating displays and writing bibliographies and reading lists.
- The Humanities Collection Grant provides fund for expanding the Humanities collection at the Blake Library. The total amount of materials purchased to date equals $49,004.

Approximately 1,200 books in the humanities subjects of religion, philosophy, art, music, history, and literature, as well as 150 music CD's in classical or opera categories, are in circulation thanks to these endowments.

Restricted Funds: $38,124

BookMania!

This annual January kick-off to a season of literary and cultural delights was better than ever. Twenty-one authors and presenters filled the John F. Armstrong Wing at the Blake Library for three days, starting with novelist Elmore Leonard and including Edna Buchanan, Dr. Nicholas Perricone, local favorite Frank Cerabino, photographer Gary Monroe and a panel of "Great New Writers." Special thanks to the Friends of the Blake Library for their participation in funding BookMania!

Restricted Funds: $10,932

In celebration of National Children's Book Week, BookBlast! brings authors and storytellers to the Blake Library for a day of fun for all ages. The "Reading Rocket Show" allowed the children to become characters in books. Highlights of the afternoon included Frank Remkiewicz, illustrator of the popular Froggy and Horrible Harry series and the Fantasy Theatre presentation of Curious George, the mischievous monkey.

Unrestricted Funds: $6,103

Children's Summer Outreach Program

Each summer The Library Foundation provides funding for special outreach programs to encourage children to read. Weekly sessions at twenty community locations feature colorful activities that get children reading to encourage them to become lifelong readers and library users.

Chatauqua South Fiction Award

General and Restricted Funds: $3,936

Susan Carol McCarthy, a first-time author who wrote "Lay That Trumpet in Our Hands" about the civil rights struggle in Central Florida in the 1950's, charmed the audience at the Fifth Annual Chatauqua South Fiction Award ceremony. Luann Justak, Award Committee Chair (right) looks on as Clayton Timmons presented the award recognizing a novel written about Florida or by a Florida author. Anna and Clayton Timmons sponsored the 2003 award.

Latin Fiesta

General Funds: $5,658

For the fifth year in a row a grant from the Library Foundation of Martin County, in cooperation with the South Florida Cultural Consortium and the Arts Council of Stuart, has brought entertainers from cultures around the world to Stuart. This year's Latin Fiesta! represented the colorful cultures of Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, Peru, Columbia, Paraguay, Bolivia, Nicaragua and Puerto Rico. Storytellers, a Paraguayan harpist, Gaucho dancers, arts and artists of Eastern Cuba, a 20-voice Brazilian chorus and a Festival Marketplace entertained over 2,500 people at the free event.

Music Sunday Afternoon – at the Cummings Library, Palm City

Designated gift from Elisabeth Lahti: $3,200

- THE MADDIE WILLIAMS TRIO played dance music from the forties to the present.
- WILLIAM BOROVINA, vocalist, with CYNTHIA KESSLER, accompanist, performed a musical journey highlighted by popular Italian songs, folk songs, and hits from Broadway.
- WHAT 4 QUARTET performed a wide selection of traditional barbershop songs.
- JOHN LANG accompanied himself on guitar and harmonica.

Performing Arts

Restricted Funds: $4,327

Programs such as "Meet the Lincolns" at the Hoke Library or Harmonic Motion at the Hobe Sound Public Library brought performing and dramatic arts to all branch libraries through the Chatauqua South project.

Literary Arts

General Funds: $2,900

The Library Foundation funds a group leader and purchases the books for discussion groups in two library branches: the Robert Morgade Book Club at the Robert Morgade Library and the Hobe Sound Public Library Book Club at the Hobe Sound branch. It also brought author James D. Snyder to the Hobe Sound Public Library for a Trapper Nelson Reenactment.

Blake Library Homework Center at the Blake Library
restricted funds: Blake Library: $8,139

Elisabeth Lahti Homework Center at the Indiantown Library designated gift from Mrs. Elisabeth Lahti: $2,340

Palm City Homework Center at the Cummings Library
restricted funds and designated gift from Mrs. Elisabeth Lahti: $8,526

This popular program provides an extra resource person in the library after school and on Saturdays to help students learn to use library resources to complete their school assignments. Over 1800 visits were recorded at each Homework Center this year from students seeking assistance with everything from the DAR essay contest to Science Fair projects to choosing books from recommended reading lists. The Homework Helpers work in close cooperation with area teachers.
